

Hello, I am Ace Apolonio

I'm an Engineer, Developer, Businessman, and Author

ABOUT ME

Here's what I'm working on

Job Application

I am currently hunting for a job or internships in the Web Development field to practice the skills I have learned and enjoy doing the most.

Business

I coach students in their application to scholarship programs abroad in my startup called "Scholars Academie". I have helped 100+ students get their scholarships and study abroad.

Writing

I am currently writing my second book called "Particle Ruminations", a sequel to my first book—Silent Contemplations.

A few years after I get buried on the ground, no one will remember me. No one will see what I've done, no one will admire what I've accomplished, no one will know what books I've read, what food I like to eat, what music I dance to in the morning. Unless I become a superstar or an inventor or discoverer of something profound, my life would be lost in time. The stories I've told about myself would also disappear from the mouths of those who heard them.

This is my daily meditation. It humbles me and it brings me closer to the present moment. My vision is to live simply, humbly, and truthfully; indifferent to things that don't make a difference, not wasting any moment or any opportunity to grow and to improve.

improve.

I am proud of how I built my life so far. I want to continue living a better, happier life while extending my knowledge further in my field so that I can be of service to those who need me. For that is the only memory I can leave behind that will last forever; not in the minds or mouths but through consequential actions.

When I get old, I want to look back to these memories and be reminded of the joyful moments of my life.

My Vision In Life

"The mind adapts and converts to its own purposes the obstacle to our acting. The impediment to action advances action. What stands in the way becomes the way."

— Marcus Aurelius
